Radical SR3 SL

The Radical SR3 SL is a fully road-legal track car without compromise, however light weight does not mean a lack of performance and personalisation options. The SR3 SL delivers on all levels: pace, handling, styling and specification.

At its heart beats the advanced Ford EcoBoost engine; 240bhp, turbocharged with direct fuel injection and a fly-by-wire throttle, coupled to a six-speed paddleshift for lightning-quick 80ms gearchanges. But power would be nothing without confidence-inspiring, precise handling and this comes courtesy of the bespoke adjustable dampers, developed specifically for the car's unique race proven suspension arrangement.

Protected by a lightweight spaceframe chassis - tested and approved to sportscar racing standards - and an aluminium honeycomb crash structure developed at Cranfield's Formula One testing facility, you're also driving the safest car of its type. Fully-floating 280mm disc brakes front and rear provide stopping power beyond the abilities of any other supercar.

Despite a dry weight of only 725kg, the SL cossets with trimmed bucket seats, a wraparound LCD dash with integral gear indicator and switchgear, electrically-adjustable wing mirrors, cockpit heating, courtesy lighting, and a 12V auxiliary socket.

Develop your passion further with a range of aftersales options, to make your SL the definitive multi-purpose, competitive road and race car.
